About Thurnham Hall...

Thurnham Hall is a grade-I-listed 17th-century country house in the village of Thurnham, Lancashire, England some 10 km (6 miles) south of Lancaster.

The present building is a three-storey stone-built house built in the 17th century for Robert Dalton. Steeped in history, this beautiful country house stands proudly in an estate of nearly 30 acres. Boasting an elegant Jacobean Great Hall, the house combines the very best of old and new and it's evolved over hundreds of years to become the timeless escape it is today.

Thurnham Hall is home to 60 luxury self catering apartments, situated in the Hall itself as well as purpose built accommodation, along with a purpose built leisure centre with a swimming pool, sauna, and gym.

Our venue is a perfect setting for any celebration or event, be it weddings, birthday celebrations or even business conferences, we accommodate for all.

The Great Hall

At the Centre of Thurnham Hall is the Great Hall with its magnificent Tudor fireplace, Elizabethan friezes, decorated ceiling, oak panelling and armorial windows. The Great Hall overlooks the fountain to the front of the building and onwards over open countryside and out to sea.

The Library and Chapel

Thurnham Hall even boasts a stunning chapel attached to the library area which features a large stone fireplace and is wood panelled throughout. A large window allows views out to open countryside and the sea. This room also has rear access to the halls gardens.

The Fountain Restaurant

The Fountain Restaurant would have been the original dining room to the Hall. Featuring the original dresser and stone fireplace, this room also overlooks the front of the property with views out to the fountain, countryside and sea.

The Tower Restaurant

The Tower Restaurant is the oldest part of the Hall. In it stands a fine original kitchen range and has open views to the garden and our large pond area.
